Waterfall Hotel Completed, Open

Palm Springs restaurant owner Fred Mottle today announced the opening of his new, $250,000 hotel—the "Waterfall Hotel."

The luxurious new 44-unit hotel is located off Highway 111, next to Laurie's Steak Ranch, which is owned and operated by Mottle.

HOWEVER, MOTTE said, the hotel and restaurant will be operated as separate enterprises and will not be associated as a joint firm.

Designed by C. W. Doty, of Palm Desert, the hotel draws its name from a beautiful, 70 - foot waterfall created from natural rock.

The fall sets off the large hotel pool and harmonizes with the hotel's desert architecture.

THE TWO - STORY hotel building is faced with wood paneling large rooms and sun decks furnished in contemporary modern, Mottle said.

Landscaping features bougainvillea and Italian cypress trees framing the pool and waterfall area.

Mottle, owner - builder of the hotel, said that only local firms were employed in traction of the hotel. His contractor was M. L. Beard, of Palm Desert.

Hollister Joins Clark Realty As Partner

CATHEDRAL CITY — Robert P. Hollister, well known area businessman, was today named as a full partner in the Clark Realty and Insurance Company here.

The announcement was made by veteran Realtor Paul V. Clark, who said the firm will now be known as the Clark-Hollister Insurance Agency.

THE NEW partnership became effective Jan. 1, Clark said, in announcing the new partnership. Clark noted that "the exploding nature of population and business growth in this area requires a real expansion by any firm which expects to keep pace with desert development."

Hollister has been a desert area resident for six years and is the former owner of Tranview Trailer Park. He is currently a co-partner and editor of the Desert Trailer News.

HE HAS SERVED two terms as president of Desert Unit 7 of the California Trailer Park Association, of which he was state director for several years.

Hollister also served for three years as director of the Palm Springs Community Chest and was recently elected a director of United Fund.

In his other activities, he is a director of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce, treasurer of the Cathedral City Community Church building fund.

HE LIVES HERE with his wife, Nedra, who is a teacher at Cathedral City School, and three children.

The Clark Realty and Insurance Agency was originally established in 1930 by Willard R. Hillery, a desert area pioneer, Clark said. Clark and his wife, Mildred, took over the agency in 1951.

Clark is a past president of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce, the Cathedral City Sanitary District, the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee and the first president of the Cathedral City Board of Realtors.

He is presently a director of the Chamber of Commerce and the CVAPC and a member of the Cathedral City Community Church building committee.

1958 Was Eventful in Desert Area

Berkey won their races in contested elections.

In mid-June, the City Council of Palm Springs approved plans and specifications for the new police station, and the first United Fund Drive was successful in raising its goal of $94,000.

An explosion rocked the Cathedral City Food Box Market on June 20, injuring one person, and on June 25, fire did $15,000 damage to a Snow Creek trailer park.

In July, as the assessed valuation of Palm Springs jumped from $50,000,000 to $55,000,000, Ed Houton was named head of El Mirador Hotel and Mayor Frank Bogert announced the start of construction of the Palm Springs Golf Course, to be handled by the Westview Development Corp.

It was also in July that the new sewer project was first started, then delayed, foretelling a story of bad luck with the project for the balance of the year. The Tachevah Flood Control Bill was introduced into Congress on July 24. The Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce tried to get Palm Springs listed on national weather maps, but failed.

IN AUGUST THE Palm Springs City Council announced negotiations to purchase the Desert Inn for $1,300,000 to be used as an off-street parking lot, an extension for Belardo Road and a convention meeting hall. Negotiations are still in process.

Mrs. Francis Allegrini, 55, of Palm Springs was killed in an automobile collision in Palm Desert, and Palm Desert's honorary mayor Bing Crosby and his wife, Kathy, had a baby boy on Aug. 8.

Michael Elizabeth Miers, who with her husband was convicted of the 1955 murder-robbery of City Building Inspector Donald E. (Dutch) Graham, was released on probation from Corona Woman's Prison, after serving three of an eight year sentence.

The Doric Hotel Corp., on Aug. 23, purchased the new Ocotillo Lodge for a reported $3,000,000, and the new owners named Eddie Davidson as executive manager.

ON SEPTEMBER 4, police started an all-out search for Al Taylor, 53-year-old Palm Springs photographer shop owner, who walked outside his Palm Springs home "for a minute." He was found, Dec. 30, nearly 3 miles up Tahquitz Canyon, face down in a pool by a mountain stream, apparently killed in a fall from a cliff. Identification was made from keys found on Taylor's body, and from dental charts.

Two days after Taylor disappeared police Capt. Orest Johnson received a minor head injury when the hood of the police jeep flew off and hit him on the head. On Sept. 9, Michael Thaliss, 14-year-old Palm Springs youth, was killed in a motor scooter accident in Richmond, Calif., and on Sept. 23, Mrs. Jean Marnell, 45, of Cathedral City, was killed near Baldwin Park in a flaming crash with a gasoline truck.

Palm Springs' youngest councilwoman—Mary Carlin—started a "reform" movement to have a policy on boards and commissions and as the year ended the new policy resolution was passed by the council.

Two other residents were injured in car accidents during the month of September. Mrs. Bill Ude lost control of her car and crashed through the back of her garage at her home, and Dick Hill, 12, was injured in a bicycle-automobile accident on Tachevah near Sunrise.

IN OCTOBER, Palm Springs was shocked to read of the sudden death of Florian G. Boyd, ex-Palm Springs mayor and city councilman, who died Oct. 22 at Desert Hospital where he was recuperating from a gall-bladder operation.

A $3,500,000 Napier Eland Con-vaire prototype caught fire and was badly damaged during test flights out of Palm Springs Airport. The fire started when brake fluid lines broke and spewed brake fluid over the underside of the engine. Sgt. DuWayne Bly, 22, of Twentynine Palms was killed when the automobile he was riding in turned over on North Indian Avenue on Oct. 18.

In other stories of the month, Diane Copass was named "Teen Angel" for 1959; translator stations went off the air for two weeks in order to collect funds to keep the operation going; Irwin Schuman, owner of the Chi Chi, was presented the first Civic Award to be given to local men who make outstanding contributions to the city, and Mrs. Agnes Cramm was injured when her trailer home exploded at the Palm Springs Trailer Park.

AND ON OCT. 29, four Palm Springs residents learned they were winners in the Irish Sweepstakes. Mrs. Casey O. Pearson and her father, Al Dwight, won first prize in the Irish Sweepstakes and collected $140,000, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Katz won second prize of $36,000.

During the month of November the trend in the news changed very little although there were no serious automobile accidents.

Delmar Speer, 24, alias David McKinley Sex, the youth who earlier in the year appealed for help to "go straight," told police he "murdered" a man in the desert near Victorville. A lie detector test indicated that his "confession" was a lie.

Dr. F. A. Purcell (Nov. 7) resigned his position on the Junior College Board and in his place William Cook of Palm Desert was chosen.

THE SAME MONTH, Eldorado Country Club announced the completion of plans and specifications for their new $1,000,000 club house and at the same time announced that they would hold the 1959 Ryder Cup Matches at the course.

On Nov. 19 the Harold Simon home was destroyed by fire in Palm Springs. During December, the final month of the year, two Navy fliers barely escaped fatal injuries when they smashed through 220,000 volt power lines in Whitewater Canyon.

Song writer Rudolph Friml's wife saved him from possible death with fast first aid after he fell through the glass top table at his home in Palm Desert on Dec. 10; the Federal Bureau of Investigation with County Sheriff's deputies investigated a $50,000 jewel burglary at Thunderbird Country Club and on Dec. 16, Palm Springs had a double fatality on North Palm Canyon Drive near the old city limits.

TWO LEADING political figures paid a visit to Palm Springs in December. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dewey and John Foster Dulles. Dewey spent two days in Desert Hospital where he was treated for a case of flu, and Dulles stayed in a room at Smoke Tree Ranch writing a speech he later delivered to a State Chamber of Commerce convention in San Francisco.

On Dec. 18, the local police department put its new radar traffic unit into use and appropriate signs were posted. The Palm Springs Boys' Club was completed and opened.

A 20-year-old Palm Springs youth, William Hood, died of injuries received in a pedestrian-car-motorcycle accident at Tamarisk and Palm Canyon Drive.

On Christmas Eve, Owen King, a Los Angeles motel executive, was injured when he crashed his small plane in a lot just two blocks from the business district of Palm Springs.

THESE, ALONG with many other stories, made up the headlines of the year. Of special note were the deaths of civic leaders who died. During 1958, death claimed:

Warren Penney, 65, Los Angeles attorney and builder of El Mirador Hotel, on Jan. 14 at Corona Del Mar; Pat Hagarty, former Palm Springs humane officer, Jan. 28; Don Hartman, 67, former production chief at Paramount Studios, Feb. 14; Mac L. Hutchens, 54, former managing editor of The Desert Sun, killed from injuries suffered in an automobile accident in March in Litchfield, Ill.; Mrs. Ruth Beebe, 48, of cancer in March.

William Tackett, 60, Palm Springs developer and owner of The Center, of a heart attack, April 27; Judge Jerome Richardson, 65, of cancer, April 28; Bill Goodwin, radio-TV announcer, actor and owner of The Nooks, of heart attack, May 9.

MISS ESTHER B. Pearson, 75, early-day civic and social leader, in Pasadena, June 20; Mrs. (Dolly) Alexander Marcuse, Palm Springs and Beverly Hills, in Beverly Hills of a heart attack, July 22 and Harry Warner, 76, Palm Springs resident and president of Warner Bros. Pictures, of cerebral occlusion, July 25.

William Nash, executive of California Water and Telephone Company, of cancer, Aug. 13; Ingmar Grude, 53, former Palm Springs building inspector and contractor of heart attack while swimming in Salton Sea, Sept. 2; Florian G. Boyd, 54, former mayor and city councilman, Oct. 22; Shirley Welmas, 18, member of the Agua Caliente Tribal Council, of injuries suffered falling from a moving car, Oct. 24; Dr. Clyde Hitchcock, 78, for seven years a Palm Springs resident, of heart attack, Nov. 28.

Joe Portnoy, 48, long time resident of Palm Springs, of heart ailment, Dec. 9; and Herschel (Hutch) Moseley, 53, City of Palm Springs employee, of heart attack, Dec. 10.

WHAT LIES AHEAD for Palm Springs?

We may expect an even greater expansion in building, construction of a junior college, a major overhaul of city election policies and perhaps, a closer approach of the inevitable formation of our own Desert County—all these are possible, some even probable.

But only the passing of 1959 will see any of them fulfilled.

SMILES FOR SANTA come from little Rose Sifuentes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Sifuentes, of Cathedral City, as she accepts her Yuletide stocking from the bearded gent himself. Rose was one of 150 children who attended the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Cathedral City Junior Women's Club. Mrs. Harold Bentley, left, is vice president of the club and co-chairman of the holiday party. (Ellis Photo)

Flying Saucers To Be Discussed

The mysterious visits of visitors from — wherever they're from — in "flying saucers" and other extra-terrestrial craft will be discussed by one of the world's foremost "authorities" on the subject in Palm Springs Woman's Club at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

Dr. George Hunt Alexander, archaeologist, anthropologist and author, will render a "World Report on Unidentified Flying Objects" and will illustrate his lecture with slides.

Dr. Alexander recently returned from London and Europe where he spoke before crowds numbered in the thousands.

He has written several books, including "Other Tongues, Other Flesh," a European best-seller last year, and "The Place of the Lion."

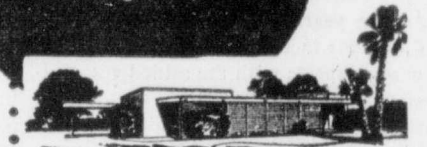

The number of different books about American history published in 1957 was 903, a gain of 48 per cent over 1956.

Now Is The to Adopt City Lawn Planting Ordinance

Almost everyone in Palm Springs is a lover of the beauties of nature which abound in this paradisiacal wonderland.

Nearly every resident has further contributed to the natural beauty and charm of the magnificent outdoor setting by carefully planned and artistically pleasing landscaping in both their residential and business properties.

The entire populace takes a noticeable pride, in maintaining a well groomed flourishing, verdant and radiantly colorful ensemble of shrubs, lawns, flowers, gardens, bushes and trees predominated over by tall and stately palms.

All of this, together with intelligent and assiduous city planning and ardent support of architectural attractiveness have combined to win widespread admiration and fame for Palm Springs as one of the most completely beautiful communities in the United States.

As the years continue, these beauties and charms increase with profusion and in most respects with the added gracefulness of maturity.

With almost everyone so avidly engaged in keeping their plants, lawns and flowers beautiful, only one undesirable practice has been noted. And that is only during the new Fall weeks of new lawn and garden planting, from the use of some old-fashioned, odoriferous fly and gnat breeding type fertilizer.

This last lawn planting season some months ago saw a considerable increase in the use of more satisfactory and entirely unobjectionable chemical fertilizers. Most individuals and public officials heeded the request of the City Council, civic leaders, business people and the general public as expressed in the press, to adopt modern lawn planting methods. Those who did so deserve the thanks, appreciation and continued support of the community in eliminating completely the old nuisance of bygone years.

To reach this ultimate goal of maintaining cleanliness, pure pleasant air and absence of flies and gnats even during the lawn planting period, it is now evident by the lack of voluntary conformity by a few that 100 per cent observance can be assured only by the adoption of a compulsory municipal ordinance.

There is no question that the use of fertilizers which create an obnoxious city-wide nuisance, and endanger health through the breeding of pests and potential disease-carrying insects can be prohibited on the same grounds as has been done in the case of the existence of garbage or other odoriferous and pestiferous refuse or rubbish.

Since this is the traditional time to plan for the New Year, and, as a period of time is required to adopt such an ordinance and have it become effective, and to give all ample notice and time to observe it without the slightest inconvenience, it is advisable that the City Council proceed with the drafting and passage of such an ordinance as one of its first measures for civic improvement for 1959.

Then we can tell the world that Palm Springs is not only one of the most beautiful cities to be found anywhere, but that its delightful climate and warm clear desert atmosphere is untainted, refreshing and marvelously invigorating the year around.

A New Year for Oldstyle

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Oliver Oldstyle, a traditionalist in name and nature, wasn't going to do anything different in 1959—or was he?

"Well, I might just reconsider a few positions," said Mr. Oldstyle, adjusting his Old Guard tie. "Not that I'm admitting the 1958 elections proved me to be wrong, or anything, you understand."

Of course not. Would Mr. Oldstyle be joining any of the Modern Republicans or Reconstructed Southern Democrats, for instance?

"NOT JOINING them," said Mr. Oldstyle. "But I might start nodding to some of them as we pass in the corridors. After all—tolerance is an old-style virtue."

Then the Old Guard might be more flexible in 1959 about the disputed subjects of 1958? Would he give some examples?

"Well, Federal aid to education is not one of them," said Mr. Oldstyle. "We will never accept the principle that the central government should supersede the local school boards when it comes to educating our children. Still — we have already agreed to special exceptions in the case of 'Federally-impacted' school districts. And we did pass last session's national defense education bill."

THE OLD GUARD might be more charitable in considering exceptions to the rule, while keeping the rule, eh?

"We might," Mr. Oldstyle admitted with a slight grinning of teeth. "And then there's the question of school integration. I can foresee that certain Southerners who have been saying "Never! may go so far as to say 'Well — hardly ever.' By this I don't mean to imply that the Warren Court and its decisions will be any less abominable in 1959 than before, but the Administration has retreated and . . ."

Has retreated?

WELL, FEDERAL troops left Little Rock and never came back," said Mr. Oldstyle. "That is retreat, isn't it? The administration made the mistake of opposing local option, and our side will never do that. We will never send Confederate troops to prevent a Northern or Southern school from that's what the people really want. All we ask is reciprocity."

And the subject of foreign aid?

"Billions for tribute!" scornfully cried Mr. Oldstyle, an incurable loyalist to lost causes. "A foreign policy of prostitution — commercialized love, purchased friendship! Every American with a drop of Oldstyle blood should oppose foreign aid as a way of bribing foreigners not to join the enemy. However . . ."

However, sir?

"WELL, SOME OF my best friends are foreign aiders. I shall continue to hate the sin while loving some of the sinners. In 1959 I'm not going to cut any conservative relatives out of my will for supporting overseas giveaways. I'm going to concentrate on reforming the system. It's time we tried to get a hundred cents worth of results for the aid-dollar."

Same as the defense-dollar, no doubt?

"More hardware, less propaganda in both foreign aid and national defense," said Mr. Oldstyle, who never did care for the new styles of Madison Ave.

"YOU OUGHT to write something on the military value of the talking satellite. All we've heard about is President Eisenhower sending Christmas greetings from space. But here is an aerial vehicle that must have enormous value for electronic reconnaissance and for pinpointing H-bomb targets behind the enemy lines. A public relations triumph — sure! But the American taxpayer doesn't shell out $40-plus billion in Defense spending for the fun of saying, 'There now, to the Russians.'"

The 85th Congress left some unfinished business behind last summer. Many of Mr. Oldstyle's political associates had helped block the Kennedy-Ives Labor bill because it was too weak, thereby allying themselves with the Laborites who thought Kennedy-Ives was too strong. It's an old tie-up between the extremes of Right and Left. It has resulted in the failure of democratic governments in other countries. Of course, failure can't happen here, but . . .

"DON'T PRESS ME too far," said the Honorable Oliver Oldstyle. "Sometimes I think we conservatives hate the middle-roads more than we hate the left-wingers. We loath compromise of principle, and that's where the middle-roads or moderates or 'moderns' always take us. No, don't press me beyond the limits of my conservative nature."

It's a New Year, but you're not really a new man, eh?

"That's about it," said Oliver Oldstyle. — Holmes Alexander

Quotes from the News

SANTIAGO DE CUBA—Rebel leader Fidel Castro, on arriving in Santiago:

"At last we have arrived in Santiago de Cuba. The road was long and hard but we arrived. At 2 p. m. we will be in the capital of the republic (Havana)."

NEW YORK—Godfrey Schmidt, a member of the court-appointed board of monitors set up to keep an eye on the Teamsters Union, on teamster plans to organize New York City policemen:

"At this moment, the whole thing looks like a big publicity stunt. It's another move by Hoffa (Teamster President James R. Hoffa) who is under a compulsive motive to throw his weight around."

WASHINGTON — A high Air Force official on a Soviet radar and radio jamming network surrounding Berlin, Germany, which could jeopardize any airlift attempt:

"Jamming is not difficult.

Your wife can 'jam' the television set by turning on some electrical machine. The Russians are past masters at jamming in all its forms."

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic — Former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista, on arriving in exile:

"I am satisfied that I conducted a good government for Cuba which reached the peak of prosperity and well-being during my administration."

This Side of The Sun By Phat

Lives there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself has said
Oh, golly, gosh, my aching head
Oh, how I wish that I, instead
Of trying to paint the Village red
Had had good sense and stood in bed.

Not me. I am happy to state that I went to sleep on the Milton Berle show and when Mrs. G. awakened me and suggested I'd be more comfortable in bed than in that old favorite chair of mine, it was 1959.

DELAYED REPORT on Christmas.

Employee of a Palm Springs firm makes a practice of giving its staff members a gift certificate on Christmas for any size turkey or ham they desire, has a large family.

And he also expected several relatives in for the Christmas dinner.

SO HE WENT to the market where his certificate was to be honored and ordered the biggest ham they had in the house.

He staggered home with it. (Staggered because of the weight of the ham, not interior accumulations.)

But he had to come back up-town to the market. To borrow the butcher's saw.

The ham was too big for the oven.

And his wife cooked it like the circus trains used to come-in sections.

THEN THERE WAS the Villager who received a gift which, when he shook it, gurgled.

When he opened it on Christmas Eve, he saw something on the label of the container which gave him a bright new idea for the bright new year.

Now, in places where beverages of high potentialities are dispensed, they have an expression they use when a patron becomes obstreperous and is given the old heave-ho when he refuses to accept the edict:

"No more for you."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

"The first four-year course in brewing in any United States University was inaugurated last week by the University of California's Department of Food Technology."

I pick up this educational dispatch this morning from the Territorial Enterprise, Virginia City, Nev., Lucius Beebe, Prop. and Publisher.

Mr. Beebe polishes his own rich throat only with vintage champagne. But his elegant ghost town boasts 20 saloons to 1000 population. A quantity of beer flows from the spigots and Mr. Beebe knows his duty to his public.

I MUST SAY education is making mighty strides since I was learning how Caesar divided Gaul into three parts.

Nobody offered me an education in making beer — I had to learn by myself.

This was the Prohibition era. And through my younger set was not much interested in the flavor of the product, we recognized a home chemistry opportunity when we saw it.

YOU BOUGHT a five-gallon stone crock. And you bought a lot of sugar. And you bought a can of malt.

You mixed these in three parts (like Gaul) — I forgot the proportions, but it was a delicate thing. You mixed them and stirred them around. The malt was a syrupy sort of stuff. You dropped in a few cakes of yeast.

By next morning, your mixture was putting up a head of brownish foam.

You could watch this stuff work. Once in awhile a little fat bubble would come up and burst with a yeasty pop.

Boy, was that educational!

AFTER ABOUT ten days, you siphoned the mixture off into bottles. We bought bottles and a bottle capper and caps.

You then let it sit about two weeks and you had beer.

Well, maybe you had beer. Maybe you had explosives.

Nobody could resist adding a few experimental touches: A little brown sugar along with the white. Drop in a couple of raisins, some people said.

THINGS LIKE THIS gave your brew the touchiness of an atom bomb.

You would be sitting around peacefully. The beer bottled and in the attic. BANG!

There would follow a great clatter of falling glass. It was powerful stuff and did not simply blow the cap. It blew the bottles apart.

NATURALLY THIS was what the young chemists were reaching for. We made the household beer like getting in the wood. Or any other chore. But we expected some fun out of it.

Let our elders comment on flavor and texture. What we wanted was the big BANG! A little extra sugar and yeast was the critical mass.

"SIX BOTTLES blew up last night." That was the way we used to brag.

There was no reason for the explosions. You could keep the stuff cold and quiet. In the middle of the night—BANG! BANG!

People who got to our beer handled the bottles gingerly. If they could get them uncapped, they reported that it had a pretty good flavor.

WELL, THIS went on for about a year. And then one day, Mr. Roosevelt was elected. He said beer with 3.2 alcoholic content was non-alcoholic.

Some people said how in the world could you figure that way.

But Mr. Roosevelt just said who was President anyway? And if the President didn't know, who did?

AND ALMOST overnight, the crocks and the bottle capper went up in the attic. The last of the home brew blew up gradually. We swept up the glass and the world lost the greatest crop of natural chemists it has ever produced.

I doubt that the University of California will teach their student brewers how to blow up bottles. That is a lost art.

EARL WILSON:

Tina Louise Is Back In Town

NEW YORK—Beautiful, shapely Tina Louise slipped into Manhattan without letting the wolf pack know — but they found out. It's hard to realize that she's now getting to be an important Hollywood actress — having made three pictures since "God's Little Acre." She's playing the love department very cozy, having been married once. I asked her what guy was taking her around town. New Year's and she smoothly replied, "I imagine I can have my choice of several." Then I inquired, "Are you expecting to get married?" Tina answered, "I hope to! Do you think I'll get lucky?" (Tina's thinner, but not in the wrong places.)

Hoosier Herb Shriner's made a bundle in the stock market — probably more than he did in show business. Still, he's going to perform at the Miami Fontainebleau soon, and is also doing a closed circuit TV show from L.A. for Ford shortly.

All of which involves travel. "People say I'm nuts to be away from my lovely home in Larchmont," Herb relates. "Even my wife says, 'Aren't you getting tired of the road?' Fact is, I'm just beginning to like it."

Some More "Funny Signs": A teen-ager posted this on the ceiling of his bedroom: "What the hell are you looking up here for?"

Spotted by Paul Morris: At a bake shop: "Pies like mother used to buy." Repair Shop: "We fix everything but basketball games." In an airline pilot's room: "Beware of high-flying buildings." At a gas station in Queens, N.Y.: "Have gun, will grease" (via Henry Schapper).

Vincent Lopez tells of a customer at Chez Vito watching another man put on a raincoat. "Excuse me, sir," said the first, "are you Mr. Stein of Forest Hills?" The other gruffly replied, "No, I'm not." The first retorted, "Well, I am, and that's his coat you're putting on!"

Taffy Tuttle said she loves her boy friend for what he is: he's a Texas millionaire. . . One of the Yachts are entitled to strange names. Roy Evans of Miami Beach named his "For Evans Sake." . . . How to get back on your feet. Miss a payment on the car. . . A Broadway woman known as quite a witch (that may be misspelled) was speaking to a girl whose prosperity and beauty made her jealous, and she said, "Have a good time, dear; after all, you have only nine lives."

Earl's Pearl: "The perfect husband," says Carey Williams, "is merely the one who has his wife completely fooled."

Wish I'd Said That: "Streets are so congested that there are only two kinds of parking left—illegal and no" — Charles A. Knouse.

Today's Best Laugh: Larry Daniels reports that a friend has one of those small foreign cars. He got 30 tickets for illegal parking — and the car was deported.

"Have a good word for everyone," says Tony Pettito, "and you'll soon be known as the biggest con artist in town." . . . That's earl, brother.

Jerry Lewis Gets Ultimatum

HOLLYWOOD — Liz Taylor is finding out that being "the other woman" doesn't exactly make you popular with other women, especially with women TV-viewers. And that may explain why Chesterfield, bowing to public opinion, may decide to quit sponsoring the Eddie Fisher Show (at which Miss Taylor has been a backstage visitor on several occasions) on March 17, date of Eddie's next option.

Jerry Lewis's doctor laid it on the line for the funnymen: Lay off the business confabs and movie — & — telephoning talks during the lunch hour or back to the flat — on — his — back bit in the infirmary!

HARPO AND CHICO Marx bowed out of a co-starring stint at Chicago's Chez Paree because they'll be clowning instead (as clowns!) in a movie for Allied Artists, "The Big Circus." All-star setup surrounding the Marxes includes Vic Mature, Rhonda Fleming, Red Buttons, Kathy Grant Crosby, Gilbert Roland, Vincent Price and Peter Lorre.

In defiance of the Production Code, Hollywood's own self-censoring guild, Seven Arts will produce "The Sergeant," based on the homosexual-themed best-seller of last year, Marty Ritt, who directed the watered-down versions of William Faulkner's "The Long Hot Summer," and the upcoming "The Sound and the Fury," will direct this one too.

Red Buttons, back in Hollywood after a nine-month absence, unwrapped his 1957 "Sanyara" Oscar and put it on the mantle of the Bel-Air home he has rented for a year from Madeline Fio Rito, ex-wife of orchestra leader Ted Fio Rito.

GUY MADISON's attempted Yuletide reconciliation with his estranged spouse, Sheila, and their three children was stymied by an SOS from Lincoln Heights jail in Los Angeles. Guy had to rush out and bail out a buddy on a no-drivers-license rap, $150 worth.

FOX'S "Says One for Me" will be shooting for the next two months but the studio is rushing the religious-themed Bing Crosby starrer for release to theatres cross-country this Easter.

CARLETON CARPENTER spent Christmas through New Year's dating the girl with whom he duetted a big-selling disk, "Abba-Dabba Honey-moon" — Debbie Reynolds.

Greg Peck's crazy crack in his new war movie, "Pork Chop Hill," when a beat-up dog-face battles his way back to the front line to batter more bad guys: "Who do you think you are — Audie Murphy?"

CHANNEL CHATTER — Bob Horton, the Wagon Train Star, never finished reading a letter he received from a lady he had never met. It started, "Dear Bob, I am 35 years old and would like to apply for a job as

Wheeler in Buy Of 80 Acres at Thousand Palms

THOUSAND PALMS — George W. Wheeler, who sold his more than 1,000 acres of holdings in the Thousand Palms area abutting Ramon Road, has purchased 80 acres in that area.

Wheeler's purchase is directly opposite the new Gagnon development in that area.

Wheeler, who also took an option on an additional 70 acres in the area, believes that "big things" are about to happen in the area.

"The price I paid for this purchase is almost three times the amount I received for equivalent land I sold two and a half years ago," he said.

Realtor Muriel E. Fulton handled the transaction. Wheeler is associated with E. T. Enoch in the new venture.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Whalen of Baltimore, Md., arrived here last week for an indefinite visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coates. Their new home on Pinyon Street has just been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Munns spent the weekend with Dr. and Mrs. George Munns in their Catalina Way home. The Tom Munns hail from Northridge and fully enjoy golfing here on the desert.

Carl G. Birch, well known here, was married in November to Miss Darlene Artman in Reno, Nev.

Mrs. Frances Hodgeman left last week for San Francisco, where she will spend the entire holiday season with family and friends.

General and Mrs. Edward Gallant and General and Mrs. F. W.

Webster, old friends of Col. James O'Reilly who is now stationed in Germany, were seen luncheon last Friday with Mrs. James O'Reilly at Shadow Mountain Club.

A surprise birthday dinner was given Saturday night for Mrs. Charles Alexander by her family.

Guests at Sage and Sun this week were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hope of San Diego. Mr. Hope is a well known architect and has designed many important structures in San Diego. Other guests are Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Beatty of Marysville, who will spend a month here; their family, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stillwell and children of Marysville visited them for Christmas.

Mrs. Refs Deaton, who has many friends in the desert, will arrive today to spend a month with Mrs. Henry K. Cheeseman.

Cathedral City

By JEAN PATANE

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Otto (Otto Realty) spent Christmas in Manhattan Beach at the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Landay.

Marilyn Kraus, who is attending Everett Junior College in Everett, Wash., surprised her mother, Mrs. Doris Kraus, with her arrival last week to spend her holiday vacation in the desert.

Mrs. Marie Bentley of Los Angeles spent Christmas and the holiday weekend at the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bentley, and daughter, Carol. Saturday, the Bentleys drove to San Diego to visit with Mrs. Marie Bentley's mother, Mrs.

Myrtle Swope and other members of their family.

Here to spend Christmas and the festive weekend with Mrs. Dorcas Dragne (Dorcas Beauty Shop), and her young daughter, Sonja, were her daughter and son-in-law Carla and Floyd Matson and baby daughter, Cathy, who flew down from their home in Berkeley on Christmas Eve. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Peterson, drove down from their home in Pasadena and her nephew, Dale Peterson, who is stationed at the Air Base in San Antonio, Tex., as a navigator, flew in for Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith spent Christmas week with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reith Paine, in Burbank and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Jr., in South Gate.

Billie Williamson, who is with Otto Realty, returned to her Cathedral City home Sunday from Pasadena where she spent Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Maude M. Bartholomew and her niece, Mrs. William Flood.

Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Frank for Christmas and the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oswald, and daughter Judy, and son Gary, and Don's mother, Mrs. May Frank of Los Angeles. Their daughter, Kathleen Frank, celebrated Christmas in bed with the measles.

Here for the Christmas holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donahue, were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donahue, Sr., of Sunland and her mother, Mrs. Anna Sherkey, of Los Angeles. Joining the Donahues on Christmas Day were Mr. and Mrs. Elias Hughes of Hemet, and Wilen Anderson. The Donahue, Sr., returned to their home and Mrs. Sherkey is staying until after New Year's.

Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes (he is a retired mining engineer) who lived in Mexico for many years before making their home in Berkeley, and were visiting their many friends in Mexico after an absence of 10 years, are now spending the winter in Cathedral City, before returning north.

New residents to Cathedral City are Mrs. Lillie Kingsbury and her son, Mr. Gene Kingsbury, of Phoenix, Ariz., who have taken a house on "F" Street and are contemplating building a home here and making the desert their permanent residence.

Spending the Christmas weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Butterworth, were his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Langley, and children, Janet and Jimmie, who make their home in North Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitmore are spending New Year's week at their desert home on "A" Street, relaxing from a busy holiday season at their gift shop in Whittier.

Survey Reveals Legislature May Abolish Cross-Filing

Editor's Note: Third of four dispatches on results of a United Press International poll of members of the Legislature.

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
United Press International
SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The new year may see the California Legislature vote to raise the state speed limit, abolish cross-filing and set up a fair employment practices commission.

But it is not likely to declare a moratorium on capital punishment or repeal the death penalty entirely. Nor is it likely to abolish loyalty oaths or permit the Bible to be read in public schools.

THOSE WERE SOME of the trends to be found in results of a United Press International poll of the 120 members of the Assembly and Senate made a few days before the 1959 general session starts on Jan. 5.

The Legislature will have a new look next year, with Democrats firmly in control of both houses and guided by a Democratic governor, Edmund G. Pat Brown.

AS SUCH, IT is probable legislation dealing with civil rights, particularly FEPC, will be high on the priority list. So will be a proposal to repeal cross-filing which Democrats long have favored and most Republicans opposed.

The UPI asked the legislators if they favored establishment of an FEPC and, if they did, if they would give the commission enforcement powers and make it a misdemeanor to violate an order forbidding discrimination because of race, creed or color.

ALMOST 50 OF the legislators who replied to the UPI poll said

Rev. McClains Have Baby Girl

PALM DESERT — A seven-pound, thirteen-ounce baby girl was born Sunday morning, Dec. 23, to Rev. and Mrs. Warren McC. McClain at Desert Hospital in Palm Springs.

they favored an FEPC and would vote it enforcement powers. Fifteen members said they would not vote for FEPC and 10 were undecided. Most of the opposition came from the Senate.

On a proposal to abolish cross-filing, an election procedure whereby a Democrat can file for office on both Republican and Democratic primary ballots and vice versa, returns showed 35 Democrats and 10 Republicans in favor of repeal while 15 Republicans and only two Democrats were against abolition.

MORE THAN 50 of the 70 legislators who replied to the poll said the present 55-mile-an-hour prima facie speed limit should be increased. Most said they favored a flat 65-mile-an-hour limit. Some said it should be as high as 75

Designers Home From Anaheim

PALM DESERT—Harvey Gerth and Jim Frye, well-known landscape designers, have returned from a holiday vacation in Anaheim as house guests of Mrs. Ruby Weaver, mother of Harvey Gerth.

Gerth and Frye report that their first job for the new year consists of creating a date palm grove at the new hotel units owned by Monty Wenck.

on the freeways but held to 55 on two or three-lane roads.

By a better than 2-1 margin, the legislators said they were against any proposal to make a jail sentence mandatory on conviction for the first time of drunk driving.

A MORATORIUM on the death penalty, approved by the Assembly in 1957 but voted down in the Senate, likely will suffer the same fate in 1959. By a 35-25 margin, the legislators said they would not approve suspension of capital punishment and a far greater number said they would be against outright repeal.

Loyalty oaths, opposed by most Democrats when they were voted, will stay on the statute books. By about 2-1, legislators said they would oppose repeal of all loyalty oaths although Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D-San Francisco) said he will introduce such a bill.

LEGISLATION TO permit selected portions of the Bible to be read in public schools was opposed by a 3-2 vote. Legislators were even more emphatic in opposing an oft-defeated bill to make it a misdemeanor to sell crime comic books to children. They also said they would oppose bills to censor "girlie" magazines.

In the field of narcotics enforcement, almost 50 legislators said they felt stiffer penalties were needed. They said a mandatory jail sentence should be meted out to violators on the very first offense. Sentiment was almost evenly divided on a proposal to exact the death penalty from persons convicted repeatedly of peddling narcotics to minors.

(Next: New legislation to be proposed in the 1959 session).

Pro Tennis Bid Nixed By Olmedo

'Chief' Will Finish Education at USC; Kramer Inks Cooper

BRISBANE, Australia (UP) — Professional tennis promoter Jack Kramer, who has Australia's two top Davis Cup players lined up for his next world tour, will have to wait another year before going after Alex Olmedo.

Olmedo, the hero of America's victory over Australia in the Davis Cup challenge round, announced Thursday he isn't interested in turning pro until 1960.

"I'VE GOT ONE more year of schooling at Southern California and I still want to consolidate myself in big-time amateur tennis," Olmedo told United Press International before leaving for Perth, where he will participate in the West Australia championships starting Sunday.

KRAMER, MEANWHILE, announced at Sydney that Mal Anderson already had joined his pro group and Ashley Cooper, Anderson's teammate on the vanquished Australian Davis Cup team, will sign a pro contract Saturday.

Cooper's official signing is being delayed until his marriage Saturday to Ellen Wood, Miss Australia of 1957. The Wimbledon U. S. and Australia singles champion already has accepted a three-year contract for 45,000 pounds or $101,800.

Players Arrive For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Sixty-four of the National Football League's top players began arriving today to begin workouts for the Pro Bowl game Jan. 11 in Memorial Coliseum.

Six members of the Los Angeles Rams were chosen to represent the West squad. They are Jon Arnett, Will Sherman, Del Shofner, Les Richter, Duane Putnam and Bill Wade.

SPONSOR-LESS VILLAGE NINE MAY NOT PLAY

The Palm Springs Recreation Dept. yesterday voiced an urgent plea for sponsorship of its adult baseball team, a team that accredited itself well last year against opposition that included Los Angeles Dodger rookies.

Howard Haddock said yesterday that the team, which has been tentatively scheduled for participation in the Riverside County Baseball League, a non-professional league, will not be able to play at all unless sponsorship is forthcoming.

"There are some good ball-players in this town," Haddock said, "but we aren't going to be able to see them play if someone doesn't come forward with help."

Haddock said that a sponsor would be required to buy uniforms, bats, balls, insurance for team members, and pay for traveling expenses. The Recreation Dept. pays for umpires, bases, dressing room and shower expenses, ballfield maintenance and miscellaneous expense.

Interested potential sponsors should call either Haddock, at FA 4-1131, or John Marinko, team manager, at FA 5-7120.

Silky Starts Slow, Finishes Slow

ARCADIA (UP) — A $51.30 long-shot captured the $28,050 San Gabriel Handicap before a crowd of 37,000 at Santa Anita Park Thursday, but the fans got a disappointment when Silky Sullivan ran sixth in another race.

In the feature, Machbern, with jockey Henry Moreno up, reached the wire 2 1/4 lengths ahead of Andrew Alan in the 1 1/4-mile race over the grass course.

Silky Sullivan finished sixth in the Texas Sandman Purse after breaking well with the field and making up some ground in the stretch.

Ortega Favored To Beat Moyer In TV Fisticuffs

NEW YORK (UP)—Welterweight contender Gaspar Ortega is favored at 13-5 to tag young Denny Moyer with his first professional defeat tonight at Madison Square Garden and spoil his Eastern debut in the year's first TV fight.

Brown-haired Moyer of Portland, Ore., is only 19—so young he had to get commission dispensation to fight 10 rounds in New York state. Nevertheless, he seeks his 19th straight victory against the lanky Indian from Tijuana, Mex.

Their bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 7 p. m., p.s.t.

'Small-Fry Rodeo' Gets Underway Here Tomorrow

An estimated 150 youngsters—including some of the West's top-rated riders—will vie in the Second Annual "Small-Fry Rodeo" at Smoke Tree Ranch beginning at 12:30 p. m., tomorrow. The rodeo will continue on Sunday.

Two age classifications will compete for belt buckles, savings bonds, trophies and a pair of $50 savings bond grand prizes for best two-day overall performance.

A SPECIAL FEATURE of the rodeo will be an appearance by a pair of 13-year-old twin boys known as the "Camarillo Brothers." The pair have won over 50 rodeo trophies and exhibition laurels in their brief but action-packed lifetimes and will do exhibitions on both days of the rodeo here.

Competition will be waged in two age brackets, according to Ken Johnson, foreman of Smoke Tree Stables, and manager of the rodeo. One bracket will find 18-year-olds and under competing and the other is for 13-year-olds and under. Competition is open to both boys and girls.

EVENTS IN WHICH competition is to be conducted are steer riding, team roping, calf roping, pole bending and barrel racing.

Contributors to the prizes have been: John Gallant and Sons Hunkle and Johnson, Camis' Desert Press, Palm Springs Community Television, Palm Springs Lincoln-Mercury, Professional Pharmacy, Henry's Mobil Service, Mounted Police, Les Compadres, Gus Cozza, Cary Grant, Bob Spencer, Desert Air Conditioning.

Jim Shirley, Tom Murray, Tony Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knight, Pearl McManus, Bud Furr, Ed McCoubrey, Dr. Herman Salk, Doris O'Hara, William Darwin, Bill Lumber Co., Model Plumbing Co., Lehart Associates, Bill Gorman, Bigley Union Service, Hix and Allied Service.

Smoke Tree Ranch, Weingarten and Hough, Palm Canyon Market and Mike Ryan.

Air Force Gets Tie With TCU

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International
The Iowa Hawkeyes and Oklahoma Sooners were the only college football teams that lived up to their press notices in the New Year's Day bowl games.

Iowa and Oklahoma stunned their bowl victims with speed to score easy victories but Louisiana State's national champions had to pounce on a fumble to edge Clemson while favored Texas Christian fumbled its way to a scoreless tie with the Air Force Academy.

IOWA CRUSHED California, 38-12, in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Oklahoma defeated Syracuse, 21-6, in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.; Louisiana State blanked Clemson, 7-0, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La.; and the underdog Air Force team held TCU to a scoreless deadlock in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex.

Prairie View A&M, national Negro college champion, defeated Langston, Okla., 34-8, in the Prairie View Bowl at Houston, Tex.

In Wednesday's Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., Wyoming edged Hardin-Simmons, 14-6.

IOWA, WITH BOB Jeter and Willie Fleming bobbing over the Rose Bowl turf like hopped-up jack rabbits, crushed California to give the Big Ten its 12th victory in 13 appearances in the granddaddy of the post-season games.

Jeter was chosen the game's outstanding player. It was the same story in the Orange Bowl. Coach Bud Wilkinson's wiry, fast Oklahoma Sooners struck for three long-range touchdowns to humble Syracuse before 75,281 fans. Prentice Gault raced 42 yards to score in the opening minutes. Ross Coyle set an Orange Bowl record when he ran 79 yards to score on a pass from Brewster Hobbey and Hobbey zoomed 40 yards to score with a Syracuse punt. Oklahoma was a 13-point favorite.

COACH PAUL DIETZEL's Louisiana State Tigers, voted the nation's top team of 1958 by the United Press International Board of Coaches, had to use all their claws to subdue Clemson in the Sugar Bowl before 82,000.

Texas Christian was an eight-point choice over the Air Force in what was billed as the closest of Thursday's games. The 75,504 Cotton Bowl fans watched TCU fumble eight times while the Air Force bobbled five times.

BOWLING

MONDAY MIXED DOUBLES
The Pink Burro continued its winning ways with a 3-1 mark in Monday Night Mixed Doubles bowling, giving the Burros a 40-15 1/2 mark for the season.

Hoams Pools continued second with a 32-24 total. Joe Berta's stayed in third with a 30-26, but Dill Lumber showed a convincing gain, winning 3-1 and posting a seasonal total of 28-28.

MURRAY'S TRAILERS continued to trail and Pascal's remained in the cellar.

Dill Lumber posted high team series (194) and high team game (693) in moving up on Berta's. Dottie Manthey with 446 and Wilbur Neblung with 566 posted high individual series — women and men — and Selma Survant and Bill Christy rolled 188 and 218, respectively, for high individual game.

FRANCHISE LEAGUE
The Press Construction Co. continued to widen its already substantial lead in the Palm Springs Franchise League, winning four more games without a defeat while Anita's Candy Shop was winning two of four games.

In third place, The Barn gained a game on Anita's by winning three of four while J&S Paving split, 2-2. Lincoln-Mercury went winless, losing all four games, and allowing Union Ice Co. to gain one step out of their sixth place station. Union won one of four games.

The wrecking crew from Press rolled high team total for three games, 2756, and also turned up with third best single team game, 955. Anita's was second with team total for three games, 2715, and J&S Paving was third with 2711. Anita's registered high team game, 981, followed by The Barn, 970.

Press also monopolized individual honors with Lou Folk registering high three-game total, 599, and Wilbur Neblung totaling 823 for third in the same category. Second best total went to Marilyn Midstokke, of J&S, with 549.

Folk made it a double sweep of individual honors with a 224 to win high individual game honors. Neblung again placed third with 195. Sandwiched between them was John Marinko of The Barn, with 222.

Gardening in the Desert

We have received many inquiries about Nightblooming Jasmine. The true Nightblooming Jasmine owes its origin to the West Indies and boasts of a family of 150 species. Long after sundown different plant whose bloom is confined to but one display a year.

a pleasant aroma that permeates the atmosphere for yards around. It is unwise to root this plant too near a bedroom or livingroom window; its aroma, if indulged in for a lengthy period might become nauseating to some people.

AFTER ITS BLOOMING period rises appear in their stead. These may be used to add an unusual note to your indoor bouquets.

If your lot is sufficiently large and you feel an urge to set aside a portion of it to retain a desert atmosphere do not rely on public lands to satisfy that urge. State and county laws specifically prohibit tampering with native plants in their wild state. Even the picking of wildflowers is forbidden by statute.

HOWEVER, LOCAL nurseries will supply any variety of desert plant you need from the teheral Smoke Tree all the way to Desert Verbena, Desert Gold and other flowers. These natives bloom for only a short period but their blooms are spectacular and run in colors from the white of the prickly Poppy and Silver Queen, through lavender, yellow, rose-purple, purple and red, to the deep indigo blue of the Smoke Tree.

Among the yellows are Creosote Bush, Palo Verde, Parkinsonia, Perfume Acacia, Encelia and Mojave Broom. The blooms of the Ocotillo and Chuparosa are red, those of Desert Lavender and Verbena are lavender, Honey Mesquite brings forth a creamy yellow bloom.

IN ADDITION TO these there are many species of Cacti which require little care but will surprise with grotesquely shaped and elegantly colored blooms in season. If possible keep the prickly cacti away from spots frequented by young children; plucking those tiny, thorny spikes from children's hands is no easy operation.

There is much to be said about the desert trees and plants mentioned in this article. First and foremost is the saving to your watering bill. Without exception all of the growths mentioned will individually consume but one quarter to one third that is consumed by other garden plants, require the minimum of fertilizer and calmly resist all heat and cold, hence should be planted apart from flower beds and lawns where copious irrigation is the order of the day.

WHEN PLANTING select if possible a permanent location; almost without exception transplanting is a menace to the growth of these desert plants. This has been amply demonstrated by the millions of tourists who visit the desert when all its growths are in full bloom and the desert is a carpet of color.

Unfortunately this does not appear every year, it is restricted to the years when January to March has had many rainy periods. Despite the State laws many visitors insist on plucking the flowers by the roots with the idea of growing these flowers in their own gardens; we can imagine their chagrin when they find out it can't be done. —T.G.M.

What Went on Around Town in 1958 Reviewed at Start of Happy, New Year

By HILLY CRAWFORD

That Rubaiyat line... "the New Year reviving old desires... the thoughtful soul to solitude retires"... is something that flicks across your consciousness once a year... but who has time to stay in solitude for long?... With holiday parties all over the place... the mistakes of the Old Year behind us... and a wonderful chance to make the New Year a happy one... free of unkindnesses... it does inspire new ideas and a resolution to properly appreciate this beautiful Palm Springs where we are privileged to live... Before we do... let's take a last look at what went on around town in 1958...

New Years Day found the Press Club rooms at Desert Inn filled with TV viewers during the screening of the Rose Tournament parade and Rose Bowl Game... Early January events were numerous... with many hostesses entertaining at the popular Sunday Brunch... The Playhouse Guild reception at Desert Inn honored the Playhouse cast and the Michael Ferralls who returned this year as producers as well as directors... The Walt Sibberts entertained for pianist Lillian Steuber following her recital here... and Al Anthony hosted a birthday party at La Paz with Louis Prima and Keeley Smith among the guests

Elisnore Machris... always noted as a hostess... gave a black tie dinner that filled Howard Manor's diningroom... honoring Jack Dempsey when the Margolis - Dempsey partnership was announced...

J. W. Robinson's Palm Springs store... designed by Raymond Lowmy... opened with celebrities galore here for the big day that started off with a luncheon for civic personalities at the Desert Inn's beautiful new diningroom... John Morris staged a spaghetti dinner at his studio for the unveiling of the Hilly Crawford clown painting

The Dollards hosted an early supper with cocktails at Committee of Twenty Five Club... preceding the Preview Performance at the Playhouse... which was followed by the glamorous Sponsors Ball at El Mirador...

By this time the First Nighter dinners... always a part of the Palm Springs winter season... were in full swing... starting at Desert Inn... preceding the opening of the original play "The Pink Burro"... which has a delectable locale and is about the Watertown restaurant south of town... The opening night performance was followed by a press party at the Polo club...

Charel de Thomee hosted a small party for Lord and Lady Essendon of London... and the Maury Horners and Tom White honored Dr. Margaret Chung of San Francisco... The Rodeo Ball at the Tennis Club on January 31 wound up a busy first month of the year...

Romanoffs was the scene for the WAIF's big style show luncheon... where Peggy Hunt showed her delightfully feminine clothes... Shadow Mountain Club held its Mayor's Ball honoring Palm Desert's honorary mayor Bing Crosby... and Dottie and Tom Davis held a housewarming for their marble palace on the hillside above Thunderbird...

The Ernie Alshuler took over the Racquet Club for cocktails and dinner... celebrating his 71st birthday... and tiny flashlights were the favors... all crowded into the week that ended with the Marusia fashion show luncheon and Golden Nugget Ball at El Mirador... with around 400 gaily costumed guests at the Ball which was reignited over by singer Patti Page... Patti sang several Jimmy McHugh songs... with Jimmy himself as her accompanist... and Montie Montana rode his beautiful horse Rex into the lobby and down the steps... on to the ballroom floor...

It was in mid-February that the just-concluded drive for funds for a Palm Springs float was started... with the colorful All Nations Under the Sun Ball at El Mirador... Joe and Noemie Hall held a housewarming for their new home on Via Monte Vista... Duke Ellington brought educated jazz classics to Chi Chi and packed the place... Ray Ryan hosted the Desert Riders at lunch in the South Pacific Room... and the Big Three... Steak Rides, Bavarian Beer Festivals and Thursday night lunas with George Kainapau made El Mirador a target for party-goers three nights a week...

Wine Tasting

A Wine Tasting at Ocotillo... offering California's finest red and white wines... was a benefit for Palm Springs Chapter City of Hope... The John McClures hosted a party of over 100 at El Mirador's Sunday Brunch... and the St. Valentine's Party at Chi Chi found both Crosby and Sinatra singing their hearts out for "sweet charity"...

Jan King invited a crowd for cocktails and dinner... and the name "Hilly" spelled out in lights on the picket fence... was the tip-off that I had my first surprise party since I was 13... 1958 was the year Thunderbird Country Club celebrated its seventh anniversary... Dean Vincents hosted their annual chuckwagon breakfast at their ranch home out on Rio del Sol...

Bob and Millie Considine came to town... and Jerri and Stewart Hopps gave a chuckwagon dinner for them... the same night Theodora and Tom Fleming gave a black tie dinner in El Mirador's private diningroom... honoring the birthdays of the hostess and of Dad French...

Julia Meade starred in "Dream Girl" at the Playhouse... and Jack Benny and Harpo Marx were the improbable team that staged a concert at the Plaza for the Music Society of Palm Springs

Joann and Ned Crawford made it down from Portland and took over the Starlight Patio for a cocktail - buffet which featured seafoods flown down from the Pacific Northwest...

Ray Ryan entertained for Millie Considine... taking over one end of the main diningroom during the El Mirador's Wednesday night Beer Festival... The Mystery Rose Queen was unveiled and turned out to be Jimmy Rogers Bernard...

Helen Braunschweiger chairmanned the beautiful WAIF Ball at the Tennis Club... and Jerry Lewis was headlined at Chi Chi... There was the annual Western Night at Ranch Club... and Thunderbird had a St. Patrick's dinner dance... Donald Stralem and Frank Mandell hosted their annual party at Racquet Club...

The James Kemper entertained at a cocktail-buffet at their home on Via Las Palmas... and the Ed Rothbarts honored Ivy Baker Priest (United States Treasurer) and her daughter at a party at their Palm Springs house on Via Sol... Dan Schorr (CBS correspondent from Moscow) vacationed here at the Racquet Club... and the Howard Morris took over the Venetian Room at Tennis Club for a cocktail-buffet...

Liberace and Jane Powell were double billed at Chi Chi... The Albertsons hosted a big party at the Committee of Twenty Five Club... and Walter Winchell again emceed the All Star Police show... March wound up with the Ray Ryan junket to Texas to make arrangements for Desert Circus Week...

Cha cha cha is just a word to me... but I acted as hostess for Western Hills - Cuban Fiesta... pinch-hitting for Trav Rogers who was off to Texas with Ryan's Raiders... The Sydney Schiffs hosted the first big party in Romanoffs' private diningroom... celebrating Evelyn's birthday... early in April... and there was a big welcome home in The Center for the returned Texas junket... which was accompanied by the Governor's brother and Glenn McCarthy...

Jolie Gabor had a housewarming for her home in the hills above Lily Pons' house... Easter came early... and El Mirador staged its annual Hat Parade Brunch... followed by the O.E.L. Graves exhibit in the Starlight Patio late that afternoon (remember how it poured rain?...)

Texans Here

Circus Week was kicked off by the Deputies Luncheon at Romanoffs... with each deputy receiving a Desert Circus handbag... Cliff Henderson opened his new Satellite Room at Firecliff... and the Float Association was holding committee meetings... Going all out for the visiting Texans... the Lone Star flag was raised in The Center... and there was that never-to-be-forgotten incident at Scotty Rubin's big poolside party... that came near starting another war between the states... Night on the Town found the deputies raiding all the night spots... and Kangaroo Court was a medley of entertainment on the Desert Inn grounds...

"Dear Abby" (Mrs. Morton Phillips) came to town and was the honor guest at a party given by the Franz Alexanders... and the Big Top Ball (remember those blow-ups) filled the Chi Chi with lights and color and guns going off... (that constant obligato of the 1958 Circus)... The Big Week wound up with the party honoring Ray Ryan at the Sam Janis' home... There was an "Under the Stars" dinner out at Indian Wells... for the Pow-Wow tourney... and Desi Arnaz was emcee... It was Maytime almost before we knew it... and parties were al fresco... like the Manasse chuckwagon at Thunderbird... the Asher Levys' cocktail - buffet... and the Costellos' Mexican party that is always a forerunner of summer... Mid-May found the closing parties in full swing...

Trudy and Paul Reynolds entertained at their Calico Road home... and Desert Riders held their last Round-Up... before scattering for the summer...

Marcia and George Barrett gave that fabulous Oriental party... with costumed guests dining in the garden around the pool... and shooting off colored serpentine overhead... and dancing poolside to the music of Pat Barbara's orchestra...

Shadow Mountain Club staged its annual luau... and so did Desert Air... both bigger and more colorful than in previous years... and the Malouis sent out invitations to their end-of-the-season party...

Swimming became a popular diversion and parties grew smaller and more intimate... as Villagers began to emigrate to other spots... or departed on summer vacation tours... Dinner dancing under the stars was inaugurated at Huddle - Springs... dancing to the music of the Guadalajara Boys... The Johnny Dawsons entertained the Klutter Klub at Eldorado... and Lillian McCarthy hosted a Chi Chi luncheon for the Knowland girls on their campaign tour...

The Miss Universe contest loomed on the horizon... red-headed Darlene Day was chosen... and June was here... with schools closing... Hales had a welcome home party for the Edward Bannings... and Howard Manor started its poolside barbecues... Jan King really wound things up with a Polar Bear party... with cakes of ice melting fast in the swimming pool at Whispering Sands...

Then comes a two-month gap... July and August spelling vacation time down along the coast...

Gams Contest

September's first fun affair was the annual Gams Contest at Chi Chi... with the men competing too this year... Some were pretty and some were hairy... and it was all fun...

Families started coming back for the opening of school... the Guadalajara Boys opened at Huddle-Springs... and the Billmore's poolside parties and buffets... so popular all summer were still going strong... The openings started... and Lillian Roth and Bart McGuire hosted a small party at their new home... Visiting wives of Democratic Congressmen were feted at a Billmore luncheon... and the Hat Parade Luncheon that raised money for the Float Association... filled Chi Chi with a sea of color... as luncheon guests arrived wearing every kind of hat imaginable...

That was the night the Costellos gave their annual Western Party at their Clancy Lane home... October 27 Chi Chi owner Irwin Schuman was the surprised honoree at the first Testimonial dinner for outstanding citizens...

ner for outstanding citizens... with friends coming from all over to pay tribute to a man who has done so much for Palm Springs...

The Ranch Club held its annual Night in Trinidad Party... and the U.S. Air Force Band gave the first band concert in the new High School auditorium... Dr. Norman Vincent Peale addressed the Rotary Club meeting at Chi Chi... Racquet Club held its glittering Millionaires Party... and on November 23 the Desert Riders and the Historical Society held a joint chuckwagon breakfast in Tamarisk Park...

Thanksgiving arrived... and close on its heels... the fabulous exhibit of gold statuettes by Renato Signorini at the Tennis Club... Jolie Gabor opened her new shop with daughter Zsa Zsa here to help her...

Highlighting December was the Palette Club's first exhibit at the Racquet Club... the first Deb Ball at the Desert Inn... with each Palm Springs Deb being presented and receiving her pin... There was the Cognac Tasting at the Racquet Club... and Genevieve Berg's big party at the Tennis Club for Cindy and Herb Carpenter...

Christmas was upon us... and this holiday week has brought us the wind-up of the drive to pay for our Rose Parade float... and the Schuff party at the Racquet Club...

A clamorous, glamorous, exciting New Years Eve that was thoroughly celebrated all around town... wound up a year of satellites overhead... and the same wonderful sunshine on the desert... It's brought new interests... and many a change in Village life... It's meant the loss of several dear friends... and brought new ones... New stores, new shops, new people and a wonderful vista ahead... as we go into 1959...

May it be a happy, healthy and prosperous year for Palm Springs... and the whole desert area...

Mississippians Visit Village

Guests at Don Castles' Red Barn are Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Thomas Wilson III and daughter Pat, of Dundee, Mississippi (the Wilsons own one of the largest plantations in Mississippi). Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sber of Beverly Hills who own the famous Uncle Bernie's Toy Menagerie that was featured on the cover of Life magazine recently.

Over the weekend they were the luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Chanock, owners of the Bel Air Hotel who are vacationing at Ocotillo Lodge, and were entertained Saturday evening at cocktails at the Mesquite home of the Les Blumes.

Film Star in First Performance

Wanda Hendrix will play the feminine lead in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With," Norman Krasna's gay comedy opening Palm Springs Playhouse January 10 for its tenth season with the preview performance, followed by the Sponsors ball at El Mirador, on January 9. It will run through January 18.

Supporting Miss Hendrix will be Joel Marston as her bewildered professor husband, James Dobson as the well wishing friend who only succeeds in complicating matters, and Thayer Roberts, Marrian Walters and Phyllis Flax appear as a night club sister team. Directed by Michael Ferrall, the comedy is being presented under the sponsorship of Palm Springs Playhouse Guild.

The Palm Springs presentation of the Broadway hit which starred Mary Healy and Peter Lind Hayes will be a west coast premiere made possible through the courtesy of Columbia Pictures who own all rights.

"Who Was That Lady," (in its contracted title form), gets its start when an innocent kiss is bestowed upon David Williams, Miss Hendrix's husband, a quiet, studious Columbia University professor, by a charming exchange student.

Hurt and suspicious, she leaves whereupon David sends for his close friend, Michael Haney (James Dobson) a TV writer, to help him retrieve his wife. Haney deciding to concoct a little melodrama poses as a member of the FBI and from then on everything starts to happen.

Pandemonium breaks loose in a Chinese restaurant and moves to the basement of the Empire State building with the result that Haney and Williams find themselves in hero roles as the captors of police - wanted spies. Naturally all ends well between the professor and his doubting wife.

The comedy which as a fresh, new twist, had a successful run at the Martin Beck theatre in New York with such critics as Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times commenting, "An invitation to merriment . . . the farce goes rocketing along through a bizarre sequence of fantastic scenes." Richard P. Cook, Wall Street Journal, reviewed it as "The most laugh-making comedy of the season" while John McLean of the Journal - American tersely commented, "Scrumptious comedy; a scrumptious success."

City of Hope Meeting on Monday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Palm Springs Chapter, City of Hope will be held on Monday, January 5, 8:15 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Alamo Road.

Mrs. Elsie Brant, program chairman, has arranged a most entertaining event. Halder De Becker and his partner Linda de Valero, of the Palm Springs School of Ballet, will perform a classical pas de deux to Shostakovich music. De Becker and his partner are principal dancers of the Southern California Ballet Company.

All members are urged to bring in their books of tickets together with stubs for the Hawaiian Night event.

Mrs. Fae Brezin, president, cordially invites the public to attend this meeting.

Holiday Party at Davis Home Festive Affair

The holiday cocktail party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis on Desert Palms Drive Saturday evening was a festive affair. Red candles burned brightly in the center of the buffet table and cast their reflection in the mirrored centerpiece.

Among the many guests enjoying this delightful evening were Messrs. and Mrs. Charles Tighe and son Shannon of Chicago, John Kremer, Henry Coulter, James Perini, and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Gushurst.

Also Mrs. Ellen Ericson and granddaughter, Bunny Bechtel from Lima, Peru, who attends Pinecrest School in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and flew here to spend the holidays with Mrs. Ericson, and Rodney Belarde also from Lima, Peru, who attends college in Oakland. The parents of the visitors from Lima are mining engineers with the Marcona Mining Company in San Juan, Peru.

1959 Engagement Calendar Sale

In a project to aid their charities, Beta Sigma Phi, Tau Sigma Chapter will hold a sale of engagement calendars for 1959.

The calendars, about 8 by 10 in size, allow enough space on each date to list engagements.

Selling for $1, the money will be used for the Beta Sigma Phi's major project, Cystic Fibrosis.

The calendars are available by calling Mary Maidhof, FA 5-7663, or Marian Weigel at FA 4-1650.

Perfect Hostess Entertains With Complete Serenity

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—As the holiday season ends and we brace for the long recovery physically and financially, let us look again at what it takes to be the "perfect hostess."

As I understand from the experts who write those guides to gracious entertaining, the perfect hostess remains calm, cool and collected no matter what the crisis. She entertains 12 for dinner with the serenity with which she sews on a button. Also, I've decided, she was born with what one observer called the "mental quickness of a Groucho Marx and the physical agility of a flea."

But then, have the experts ever faced what the rest of us do when company comes? Especially those of us who work in small kitchens and without servants? Problems like stowing the dirty dishes from the first course while trying to serve the second. Like fuses blown because of too many electrical appliances all going at once.

What does the un-harried hostess do as darkness settles over the household? Light the candles. I guess the experts would say. Candlelight is flattering to complexions even if the cook can't see.

As advised, I planned ahead for a holiday dinner party. Menu written down, right to the last olive. List of dishes and silverware needed. Work schedule for preparing each portion of the meal was posted. Turkey to go in oven five hours before the guests were due. . . rolls in pan and ready to go in oven 20 minutes before serving time.

There is on trouble. I was lost without plan in hand. And it's rather difficult to consult a work schedule in the kitchen while mingling with guests in the living room.

Invite only as many people as you can accommodate comfortably, they say, because a small party usually is more fun than a big one. Also I've found it's cheaper.

Another gem of advice: Invite congenial people. But determining congeniality is something they don't advise on. How is the hostess to know that one usually delightful couple has just had a spat and each arrives about as congenial as a barracuda?

Don't let the party get out of hand. If necessary, advise one authority, start watering the drinks. Well, most imperfect hostesses know that the guests know when the drinks are being watered and they seem to resent this thoughtful little gesture.

If the party begins to bog, I've found it up with new records, or "even start a political argument," said one sage. Records, maybe. But political arguments no, unless you want the neighbors calling the cops.

After a session of listening to the experts, I'm ready to let the amateurs tell me how to throw the next party.

Well, have fun as you throw the last fling for '58, and remember that hospitality once was defined as "making your guests feel at home even when you really wish they were."

FIRST PURCHASER of a home site in the spacious Palm Springs Golf Course development was Sydney La Vine, an executive at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios. Here is La Vine, right, with Paul King, sales manager for the links home sites, as the transaction is confirmed. The land on which both the golf club and the home development is being located has a rich desert heritage, being first subdivided in 1888 by Judge McCallum, father of Mrs. Pearl McManus. The land was at one time earmarked for use as a thoroughbred racing track but was purchased by Westview Development Corp. in May, 1958, for its present purposes.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter married without our consent but because we loved her we accepted this boy with an open heart. He is selfish, inconsiderate and stubborn. Two months after their marriage she became pregnant. She is expecting in May. Our son-in-law came to us yesterday and told us they decided to give the child up for adoption. He said he didn't want the responsibility of a baby as he is too young (he's 19) and he wants our daughter to continue working and a baby would be in the way. We pleaded with him but got nowhere. My daughter wants the baby but her husband says if she keeps it he will leave her. (We'd gladly take her and the baby.) She doesn't know which way to turn. Please advise her through me to make a wise decision.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 16-year-old boy who takes out an 18-year-old and gives her instructions not to order anything on the menu that costs over seventy cents? Then for a tip he puts down twenty pennies? I have never been so humiliated in all my life.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I invite a few couples in for a sociable evening, my husband always starts the conversation with, "How's business?" The men start talking about business and we women either sit there like dummies or we have to start our own conversation about clothes or children. I want everybody to have a good time, but no matter how many times I try to change the conversation to include the women, they always end up talking about business. Is there a solution for this?

DEAR SICK: Some men aren't able to discuss anything other than "business." If your object in entertaining is to provide a pleasant evening, don't try too hard to channel the conversation.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for nine years and with the exception of this one complaint we have been very happy. My husband introduced me to a married couple who seemed nice. Then he confided that before he met me, he had a romantic affair with this woman while her husband was overseas. He expects me to be nice to this woman, but I have all I can do to be civil to her. He says it's all over between them now and I should forget it. Do you think I should try to be friendly with her or is my husband asking too much?

DEAR ABBY: As I write this my son is sitting in jail. His own father put him there. He is 17 and

NOT a bad boy but some of his friends have been in trouble. He confessed that he was in on a hold-up (no one was hurt) last year but he wasn't picked up and nobody told on him. His father told him if he ever broke the law again he would turn him in. His father found a switch-blade knife and some marijuana cigarettes in his pocket when he was asleep so he had the cops come and pick him up. How could a father make a convict out of his own son?

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband had great courage and should be commended. It is far better that the Law should take over your son now than for a more serious offense later.
